CECILIA VERA BATTAGLIA

Product Design Lead | Digital Product Designer @ adidas

Strategic design and product leader with 20+ years driving transformation across global organisations — turning ambiguity into executable roadmaps, scalable products and go-to-market strategy aligned with business objectives and technology.

Strong background spanning business design, cross-functional execution, enterprise UX and AI-enabled transformation. Recognised for structuring complex environments and leading initiatives from concept through to market, across international teams and markets.

Work experience

Adidas, Senior Functional Analyst and Product Designer (Digital Retail & Wholesale), 2024 - Currently

- Leads cross-functional innovation initiatives within Wholesale Digital, translating strategic priorities into scalable roadmaps across global markets.
- Standardised discovery and execution practices, strengthening alignment between business and technology teams and driving platform adoption.

Bombieri (Argentina), Strategy & Business Architecture Lead, 2025 - March 2026

- Designed and formalised a proprietary innovation framework that became the foundation of the company's service architecture and positioning.
- Translated AI capabilities into scalable offerings and transformation roadmaps driving client adoption and growth.

Pegasystems, Enterprise innovation & transformation Lead, 2022-2023

- Led innovation and transformation initiatives, converting enterprise platform capabilities into scalable roadmaps, operating models and pilot programmes.
- Enabled executive alignment and go-to-market acceleration across multinational contexts.
- Improved standards across demo formats and video performance, and introduced new deliverables for internal and external customers within Go-To-Market/DemoX.

HEINEKEN (via ManpowerGroup), Transformation Lead - Cloud Workplace, 2021

- Led the Cloud Workplace transformation in Spain, establishing new digital operating practices across the organisation.
- Designed and executed pilot programmes and adoption strategies in partnership with Digital & Transformation, enabling organisational alignment and scalable rollout.
- Helped Heineken Spain reshape its post-pandemic technology model around a more employee-centred, simplified day-to-day experience.

Lobo Digital (Spain-Japan), Product & Business Strategy Manager, 2019-2021

- Defined strategic objectives, KPIs and operational roadmaps across Spain-Japan operations, aligning international teams around shared growth priorities.
- Led end-to-end delivery and contributed to service digitisation and business model adaptation to enable international scalability.

El Corte Inglés, Service Strategy & Transformation Lead, 2018-2019

- Defined service strategies and transformation roadmaps aligned with corporate objectives.
- Translated qualitative and quantitative insights into structured initiatives driving operational optimisation and digital capability enhancement across business units.

BBVA (via Globant), Digital Innovation & Transformation Lead, 2017

- Led the end-to-end launch of two digital products across Spain and global units, defining value propositions, execution roadmaps and go-to-market strategies under accelerated timelines.
- Took both products from concept to market launch in under a year, coordinating research, design and engineering teams across Spain and Global BBVA.

Softek (formerly Vector ITC Group), Head of Innovation & Business Design, 2011-2012 and 2015-2016

- Established and scaled the Innovation function, building and leading a multidisciplinary team of 10+ consultants.
- Introduced business design and structured experimentation frameworks to support MVP development, venture incubation and strategic project acquisition.
- Built the company's UX practice from the ground up and sold UX/Service Design strategic consultancy engagements.

Sogeti Spain, UX & Test Strategy Lead, 2008-2011

- Led UX and system testing strategy across complex software programmes, establishing structured governance and quality frameworks.
- Managed multidisciplinary teams and contributed to commercial positioning and delivery excellence.

Selected Achievements
